SOCIAL CORNER POETRY. THE COLOR OF YOUR DAY. What color do you give your day— Aspiring bins or broading gray? If clouds your morning sky obscrue. Do coolds thoroughout your day endure.

Or if the dawn in splender breaks. And to this call the world awakes, Is then your whole day long aglow With all the colors of the bow?

Perhaps you wake, your soul slight With mimic visions of the night: When do they give your day the line of golden gifts I signed for you? Or does some black and haunting dram ud your morning's honeful gleatu! And is your day, beneath its gloom, Enshrouded by a pall of doom?

Then search your soul, for there always Shine giories of eternal day. dimned they are by cloud or rain, mortal dread or wee or pain. o fear or grief should tint your like For soul-fired always burn three white. The coul abides; its changeless ray Should fix the color of your day. —Howard Markie Hoke in Youth's matter will be lost.

To know when the tood is dry enough takes some practice. Vegetables should be rather brittle, but not so dry as to snap or crackle, and fruits rather lea-thery and pliable. One method of de-termining whether fruit is dry enough is to squeeze a handful. If the fruit termining whether fruit is dry enough is to squeeze a handful. If the fruit separates when the hand is opened, it is dry enough. Another way is to press a single piece, and if no moisture comes to the surface the piece is sufficiently dry. Eerries are dry enough if they stick to the hand but do not crush when squeezed. Raspberries particularly should not be dried too hard, as this will keep them from resuming their natural shape when coaled in water for use.

Material will mould if it is not dry enough so it is a very important point to consider. Asider. When dried fruits are used they should be cooked in the same water in which they are soaked. Thus no food matter is lost.

ience has not been due to loss of interest in the Corner, but owing to lack of time to do the unnecessary things. One of the phasures that was mine quite recently was the privilege of going over to Wildwood Park, when Club No. 4 had their nichi cthore. I was sorry that some of the sisters had just left to take the troiley for their homes. Was pleased to renew acquaintance with Married and Happy, whom I had not met at a previous gathering of the Corner members. Also Twice Twenty and Bee True, who were pood enough to look me up and pay me a little visit recently. It was my first meeting with Primrose and Kajial Deollitie with whom I have corresponded and hops the pleasure of meeting may be some again. I also met Chauffeur, who proved to be the daughter of a dear friend back in the old days when I taught the District school. Next month I hope to visit M.
